CYCLIST RUN DOWN BY GROCERY WAGON

Contractor Frederick L. Tennis Has Remarkable Escape from Serious Injury.

Frederick L. Tennis, the president of the Tennis Constructing Company, had a remarkably narrow escape from serious injury or death by being run over by a runaway horse and wagon in West Queen street late Friday evening.

Mr. Tennis was riding on his bicycle and just as he turned into Queen street from Wood's lane a horse, belonging to Curtis & Alexander, and attached to a grocery wagon, came dashing by.

Mr. Tennis rode right into the horse's front feet and was thrown to the paved street, while his bicycle went flying in another direction. The horse passed over Mr. Tennis, but fortunately the animal did not strike the body of the contractor with his feet. Mr. Tennis received bruises about his knees and legs, but his injuries fortunately are very slight.
